CITIZENS ON THE WRONG SIDE OF LIBERATION

BLACK FEMINIST THOUGHT, U.S. EMPIRE AND THE CARIBBEAN
DR. RANDI GILL-SADLER (ENGLISH)

Dr. Gill-Sadler’s talk will highlight the United States neocolonial exploits in the Caribbean during the 1980s. Within that geopolitical context, she argues that Black Feminist intellectuals like Audre Lorde and June Jordan wrestled with their proximity to U.S. Empire as American citizens and their desire for a diasporic, Black community beyond the United States. Space is limited

The Office of Intercultural Development
Black Heritage Month 2018